The Reading Clinic at Broken Arrow

Candidates in Northeastern State's education programs provide tutorial assistance to students in pre-kindergarten through 12th grade in this 5,600-square-foot facility. Candidates gain practical experience working in the clinic under the supervision of Northeastern State faculty, while students from the Tulsa Metropolitan Area enrolled at the clinic receive additional instruction in reading and literacy skills.

K-12 students are assessed in phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, spelling, and reading comprehension. Based on the results, a customized one-on-one reading tutoring is developed for each child. Sessions are one hour and include a variety of instructional activities and literacy games. The cost is $30 for 10 sessions.

For more information, please contact the Reading Clinic Director Stephan Sargent, Ed.D., at 918-449-6513 or sargents@nsuok.edu.
